View to Schweibenalp

Sacred Place Schweibenalp

In the midst of the Bernese Oberland Alps, on a plateau 1100m (about 3300 feet) above sea level, at the border of the Giessbach Canyon, lies Schweibenalp. From here you can enjoy an incredible view towards the Rothorn mountain chain, the Axalp and the Lake of Brienz. The nearby steep Giessbach waterfalls, alpine meadows, forests and mountains with their lakes and streams invite you to explore, take a break and enjoy the beauty of nature.

The history of Schweibenalp as a sacred place goes back to the time of the Celts, when Druids lived here and had their rituals and celebrations on the plateau. Around 500 A.D. the Christian religion reached the Bernese Oberland and Schweibenalp became property of the monastery of St. Gallen.

The Way of St. James to Santiago de Compostela (pilgrimage path), called «Via Jacobi» in Switzerland, leads through Schweibenalp.

With its amazing location and magical mountain-, forest- and water worlds surrounding, the sacred place* Schweibenalp will certainly contribute to enrich your event.

Sacred places are certain points on earth charged with high energy. Often these places are located on geographic lines of forces which find their correspondence in the human meridians. These lines of forces transport energies in order to supply the organic earth system.*

LOCATION IN SWITZERLAND

From Schweibenalp you can easily reach the vacation sites Meiringen-Hasliberg and Grindelwald. The Lake of Brienz invites you for a swim during summertime and many hiking tracks cross the area all around.

In winter the small ski resort of Axalp can be reached by car or bus within 15 minutes. At the eastern end of Lake Brienz lies the popular tourist town Interlaken. From there, the world-famous mountains Eiger, Mönch and Jungfrau can be easily visited.

The Swiss Open-Air Museum “Ballenberg” is located within a 20 minutes drive from Schweibenalp. Here you can discover more than 100 ancient, century-old traditional buildings from all over Switzerland, 250 farmyard animals, traditional, old-time gardens and fields, demonstrations of local crafts and many special events creating a vivid impression of rural Swiss life in days gone by.

The Flüeli-Ranft, 30 km from Schweibenalp, is another sacred place worth being discovered. In fact, it is the birth-, living and retirement place of Niklaus von Flüe or Bruder Klaus. In the 15th century he retired and became a hermit. Besides intensive mystical practice, his advice was widely sought and followed. He is considered to be the patron saint of Switzerland.

Community and vision

As a living and working community we manage the seminar business and the permaculture gardens of Schweibenalp. Depending on the season up to 30 people are living in the community. Additionally, every year numerous volunteers come to join us and support our work. As a part of the Global Ecovillages Network, we consider ourselves as one of the emerging models for a holistic cultural transformation. Therefore, a conscious lifestyle design considering the aspects of ecology, economy, the social and spirituality are important to us, influenced by values like respect for natural cycles, a fair economy and mindfully living together. In everyday life we connect in meetings, communal meals and by singing together as well as in special events such as rituals of thanksgiving, fire ceremonies, sweat lodges a.s.o. Mutual support and collective intelligence help us to overcome challenges and solve conflicts. The community encourages the members' personal development.

VISION AND MISSION STATEMENT

Peace – Freedom – Development of the Heart

Schweibenalp is a community, whose members by mindfully dealing with oneself and others make an active contribution to the strengthening of the field of consciousness of love, in which every human being can unfold its true potential.

The community at Schweibenalp explores and lives sustainable ways of living together and acting in the areas of community, spirituality, economy and ecology as possible models for a new world.

Renting seminar rooms

The Center of Unity Schweibenalp was, already in the early 1980s, one of the first seminar facilities in the German speaking area to offer a platform for trans-religious and intercultural dialogue.

We offer several seminar rooms, each room with its own special flair. Our rooms are perfectly suitable for smaller group retreats as well as for events with many participants. In fact, we can welcome up to 190 overnight and up to 250 day-guests.

Our picturesque Guest House, with a capacity of approx. 100 beds, was built in 1896, during the early years of the Swiss Mountain Tourism and is surrounded by a property of about 20 hectares.

Two staff houses and a private chalet are also located on the site.

Home to our regular fire rituals is the Vedic ritual tent "Dhuni", which can be used on request and following specific instructions. Our rituals are open to all guests.

The lovely meditation room in the Temple of Unity, as well as the Sweat Lodge place are as well freely accessible to our guests.

The seminar house was built according to the Holz100-system*.

The Holz100-system has been developed by Erwin Thoma. It was his dream to build houses in which people feel really comfortable, which convey good health and are respectful of ecological principles. No chemical and poisonous products are used during the processing of the timber, it is possible to reduce the primary energy consumption by 50-80% during the building phase, and to offer a healthier environment to people. Additional information about the Holz100-system can be found on the website www.thoma.at.*

Seminar room "Light"

The seminar room "Light" is located in the Guest House, which dates back to the founding years of the Swiss Mountain Tourism. The building as a whole has kept its very special charm from that period, when the room was used as a ballroom.
